

New York City Travel Guide

What to Do & See in New York City

WHERE TO STAY

Hotel Chelsea

A funky, eclectic NYC icon with the legendary Spanish restaurant, El Quijote. Jack Kerouac, Janis Joplin, Bob Dylan, Patti Smith and other New York luminaries have lived here throughout the building's storied history. Hotel Chelsea is owned by the same hotel group as The Greenwich, and Chelsea is basically the cool, rock-and-roll little sister.

New York City Travel Guide

WHERE TO STAY

1 Hotel Brooklyn Bridge

An eco-conscious stay with a soothing natural aesthetic. Book with Fora to snag $100 food / beverage credit, $25 daily breakfast credit, an upgrade & extended check-in/out whenever possible.

New York City Travel Guide

WHERE TO STAY

The Bowery Hotel

Cozy and timeless, with a moody lobby and old-school charm. The East Village staple is in the heart of the action, steps from NoHo, SoHo and the Lower East Side.

New York City Travel Guide

WHERE TO EAT

Buvette

Brunch at Buvette will make you feel as if you were whisked away to Paris.

WHERE TO EAT

Four Horsemen

The Michelin-Starred Four Horsemen is a low-key neighborhood spot with exquisite food and wine. Prepare to be blown away. (And if the brothy beans or celery salad are on the menu when you go, get them.)

New York City Travel Guide

@IGNAMEHERE

WHAT TO SEE

Brooklyn Botanic Garden

Walk through Prospect Park en route to the Brooklyn Botanic Garden.

New York City Travel Guide

WHAT TO DO

The Highline

In New York, everyone walks everywhere. Luckily, there are beautiful routes on which to do so. Walk the Highline, on the city's west side. Start at Hudson Yards and work your way down to Little Island, a zen green oasis.

New York City Travel Guide

A vertical photograph of a New York City street, likely Times Square, looking down the road towards the Chrysler Building. The street is lined with tall buildings on both sides, and there are trees and cars on the road. The Chrysler Building is the central focus in the distance.

New York City Travel Guide

GET MY FULL
GUIDE HERE

effortlessescapes.ca